1. Attached for your review and comment are the Terms of Reference for the establishment and functions of the DCI Committee on Hostile Intelligence Threat Analysis, which you have agreed to chair. 2. As you know, the Community Counterintelligence Staff of the Intelligence Community Staff is working on a study requested by the Senate Select Committee for Intelligence on how best to meet the needs of the U.S. Government for multidisciplinary counterintelligence analysis. When that study is complete, about 1 November 1983, I would like your Committee to review and validate it for the DCI. The study and your comments will then also be provided to the DCI's Advisory Commission on Counterintelligence Analysis, which could use them as a baseline of departure for the work it will be doing for the DCI this fall. John Bross has agreed to chair the Commission, and my staff will provide the administrative support required. [redacted]
